Employes Tell Arbitrators Why They Demand Increase in Wages.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] New York, March 13.—Fifteen thousand men have resigned from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers during the last two years, owing to their quitting the empley of the railroads and seeking other occupations, was part of the testimony given to-day by Albert H. Hawley, of Peoria, Ill., general sceretary and treasurer of the brotherhood, when treasurer of the brotherhood, when the Federal arbitration board resumed the hearing on the dispute between the railroads and the firemen and engine-men. It was also testified that the average pay of workmen in other trades in this city would be $9.60 for sixteen hours' continuous work which any firemen are compelled to put in. Daniel W. Watt, of Peoria, Ill., testified that twenty years of exemplary service as fireman and engineer on Western railroads did not entitle him to a letter of recommendation when be left the company's service. Watt said that he was at present engaged as a clerk in the office of the brother-hood, and that his wages were now higher than any which he had received in reply to questions put by Judge L Chambers, chairman and neutral member of the board, the witness said the work had been made twice as hard for firemen during the last twenty years, owing to the increase in the weight of the locomotives and the heavier hauls. Further questioning brought out that the increase in pay during the same period had been only 10 per cent. The witness affirmed that he was willing to go on oath as to while in the employ of the railroad.

Mr. Hawley testified that there had been 4,000 deaths among members of the brotherhood between the years of the brotherhood between the years of 1904 and 1912, and 3,000 accidents in the same time, and that the fraternal organization had paid benefits upon all of these cases. All of the deaths and accidents occurred to men while

Dr. Walter B. Cody, medical adviser of the brotherhood, restified that the nature of the fireman's work rendered him subject to diseases of the heart, kidneys, liver and nerve system. Color blindness was often induced by the excessive heat and light. He introduced a list taken from numerous insurance companies showing the companies regarded the firemen as an extra hazard, and that many companies would not insure a freight fireman.

and that many companies would not insure a freight fireman, Miles Dawson, an expert actuary of this city, testified that the insurance companies lean toward the belief that the risk on firemen is greater than in the case of engineers.

Chairman Lee, of the conference committee of the railroads, announced at the opening of the session that the Toledo, St. Louis and Western had sign-

Toledo, St. Louis and Western had sig-nified a desire to withdraw from the arbitration proceedings, because it would not be able to pay any increase to its firemen and preferred to deal with its men alone. Judge Chambers said the arbitration board could not recognize the right of any road once a party to the agreement to withdraw.

Statistics compiled from the Inter-state Commerce Commission showed that in less than a year nine Eastern that in less than a year nine Eastern railroads had violated the sixteen-hour law 21,922 times. Some of these violations, it was admitted, had been due to washouts and wrecks and were unsavoidable.

Knowing Mr. Cocke had been urged to allow his name to be used in connection with the appointment, the Roanoke Bar Association held a special meeting and indorsed Mr. Cocke.

Mr. Cocke was asked to-day if he had consented to allow his name to be used in connection with the appointment, and said that he did so after being urged by a number of influential men.

"Some good friends in Washington

"Some good friends in Washington are using their influence for me. Of course, I would feel honored and would be delighted should the appointment fall to me," said Mr. Cocke. It, is known that Mr. Cocke was one of "original" Wilson men, and that has been a great admirer of the esident. While he has not said so, President. While he has not said so, it was learned from a reliable source that Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan and Senate Leader John W. appointment of Mr. Cocke.

The President will follow his rule of acting upon the recommendation of Attorney-General McReynolds, in making the appointment, and Mr. Cocke's influential friends are using their efforts in interesting the Attorney-General in his behalf.

The Fourth Circuit comprises the States of Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, North and South Carolina. This circuit is entitled to two judges. At present the judges are Judge Nathan Goff, of West Virginia, and Judge Jeter C. Pritchard, of North Carolina.

Since the court was established, over thirty years ago, there have been four judges. The first two were Judge Bond, of Maryland, and Judge Simonton, of South Carolina, both now dead. Judge Goff and Judge Pritchard succeeded them. It can be seen that ceeded them. It can be seen every State in the circuit, except ginia, has had a man on the bench.
The court is now in reality an appeltate court, and all of the sessions are terday and given four months in jail.
